‘Holistic and Multi-dimensional Development of Student through Higher Education’

‘Holistic and Multi-dimensional Development of Student through teaching learning research and extension in higher education forms the soul of the New Education Policy 2020. Adarsh Education Society Arts, Commerce and Science College, Hingoli proposed and performed in one thrust area. The institute has found that holistic and multidimensional development of students is not achieved through the traditional approach to higher education. It believes that all round development of the axial element of higher education should be the priority. Consequently, the institute believed focus on students’ all-round development through curricular and extra-curricular activities with special reference to cultural and research activities of the students. Considering the employment crises in the country and bookish and irrelevant curricular aspects of higher education, the institute decided to promote art and creative faculties of the students that can guarantee sustainable employment by developing artistic and creative abilities and skills of the students.

To meet the proposed target the institute tried to expedite the cultural research activity on the campus. Students were oriented and motivated to participate in extra-curricular activities like Avishkar Research Festivals and Youth Festivals that provide platform for presenting their artistic and creative talents. As a result of this, students have participated and achieved success in various University and State Level.

Participation in Youth Festival:

Annual inter college Youth Festival represents one of the important platforms for students for showcasing their artistic talents organised by SRTMU, Nanded. The cultural committee motivated students to join cultural events like annual gathering, state level Seth Ghanshyamdasji Kabra Memorial Debate Competition, Elocution competition, Poetry writing and singing, Rangoli, Painting, Clay Art, Singing, Dance etc. Students were educated on the importance of participating in extra-curricular activities to develop their personality holistically. They were sensitized to things like soft skills, sportsmanship, confidence, team spirit etc., for rising in life and careers. Students like Sanjay Bharade represented our institute in West Zone Inter-University Youth Festival held at Gujrat. Resultantly, following students participated in cultural events like Youth Festival and State Level Debate Competitions.
