A Report of One Day Interdisciplinary National Conference

On

“75 Years of Indian Independence”

A One-Day Interdisciplinary National Conference “75 Years of Indian Independence”. Was hosted by Department of Political Science (UG & PG) Arts, Commerce and Science College, Adarsh Education Society’s Hingoli, in collaboration with Swami Ramanand Teerth Marathwada University Nanded, Maharashtra during January 24, 2023 through offline Mode.

The objectives of the event were-

1. To celebrate intellectually 75 Years of Indian Independence.
2. Importance of Parliamentary Democracy and how it’s changing.
3. To focus on role of Election Commission in Indian Democracy.
4. To focus on challenges before Indian Democracy.
5. To focus on role of Governor in Indian Political System.
6. To focusing changing nature of Centre-State Relationship.
7. To focus on role of Indian Constitution.

A total of 185 participants from all over India registered for the event. The participation certificates were distributed to 185 participants. The Welcome & Introductory Address was delivered by Dr. Vilas Aghav, In-charge Principal, Adarsh Mahavidyalaya, Hingoli. Dr. Subhash Gawai, Principal, Smt. Shakuntalabai Dhabekar Arts College, Karanja Lad. delivered the Keynote Address. He spoke about the values enshrined in the constitution, such as equality; justice, secularism are under severe strain. Democracy is sustained procedurally but substantive claims have regressed, as inequalities have intensified, progressive interpretations of citizenship delimited and religious nationalism has emerged as a legitimising discourse. The management of social and economic contradictions, is negotiated through a discourse of populism, nationalism and majoritarianism. Such a transformations in politics and society is however not uncontested. Students, civil society groups, women’s groups, farmers have been quite vocal against violations of civil rights, caste atrocities, and bigotry. Massive protests, involving hundreds of thousands of protesters across religious, ethnic, and class cleavages took place against the CAA for violating India’s secular constitution. The farmers of India continued with their peaceful protes’s for over a year forcing the state to capitulate on the farm bills. These are a continuation of the democratic legacy which contributed to Indian exceptionalism among the post-colonial republics. The accomplishments of the past are however not a guarantee for the future. The making or unmaking of a republic is never cast in stone. The narrative of Indian politics shows that the progress of any democracy is an unfolding one and none of the foundational ideas of the republic are indissoluble. Thus the realisation of the conditions for popular sovereignty require an unceasing democratic reaffirmation and refurbishment by the people. Chief Guest Dr.M.S.Tamboli, D. P. Vipra College, Bilaspur (C.G.), talks about Establishment of democratic government, fundamental rights and freedoms, federal system of governance, Independence judiciary emergency provision its goals and challenges During Technical Session, Dr. Sandip Tundurwar, HOD Political Science, Shri. Binzani City College, Nagpur, briefed the participants on "Challenges Before Indian Democracy". He mainly discuss about the major three challenges of Indian democracy are 1) Foundational Challenge: - The first challenge of Indian democracy is foundational challenge of making a transition to democracy and their instituting democratic government. This involves bringing down the existing non-democratic regime, keeping military away from controlling government and establishing a sovereign and functional state. 2) Challenge of Expansion: - The second challenge that most of the democracies face is the challenge of expansion. This involves applying the basic principle of democratic government across all the regions, different social groups and various institutions. Ensuring greater power to local governments, extension of federal principle to all the units of the federation, inclusion of women and minority groups, etc., falls under this challenge. 3) Deepening of Democracy:- The third challenge of deepening of democracy is faced by every democracy in one form or another. This involves strengthening of the institutions and practices of democracy. This should happen in such a way that people can realise their expectations of democracy. But ordinary people have different expectations from democracy in different societies. Therefore, this challenge takes different meanings and paths in different parts of the world. In general terms, it usually means strengthening those institutions that help people's participation and control. During the next session Dr. Vitthal Dahiphale, Dept. of Political Science, Peoples College, Nanded briefed on the "Achievements of Indian Constitution". His talks begins Indian Constitution is a radical document that enshrined the promises of the freedom movement, made commitment to democratic and liberal ideals and pledged to the citizens the conditions necessary to transcend ascriptive identities, such as caste and religion to be part of a democratic, secular community. The commitment to democracy, liberalism and social justice was radical in the context of partition of the country in the name of religion and historical inequalities. The focus on the individual underlined that the unity of the nation required unity based on the dignity of the individual To realise these objectives Indian Constitution accepted the model of state-led development in order to bring about balanced growth, with a degree of egalitarianism in distribution of assets, incomes and alleviating existing inequalities The model was undoubtedly a passive revolution through the state by an enlightened national leadership. Another session of the day was handled by Dr. Kavita Sonkamble, Dept. of Political Science, Yashwant College, Nanded briefed on There is no denying that after India gained Independence, her citizens made significant contributions to the economy, political and technological advancements. Indians are known for their hard work, dedication, and resilience to face any obstacle that comes their way. it is pretty evident that Indians have excelled in almost all fields post-independence. Whether it is science, information technology, sports, or even in the army. Indian men and women have showcased their true worth, which is truly a marvel. 37 participants presented their research papers. The session was followed by a question-answer session. The full papers were published in five volumes International Peer Reviewed and Refereed Journal. The one day event was appreciated by the participants and was evident with the interaction and feedback shared during the session and post-event.
